

Speakers Bureau

City Officials Available to Speak to Your Group or Organization

If you have a question about how your City government works or just a general question about a City service, there is a good chance that some of your friends and neighbors have the same question. In order to address those questions, the City of Kyle is offering to supply the experts to come to your next group meeting and answer questions.

No matter what your requested topic might be, we have the person, or persons, to bring the latest information to you and your group.

Some of the topics we are available to cover are:

- * Public Safety
- * City Codes
- * Parks and Recreation Programs
- * Utility Services
- * Public Works Projects
- * City Administration

This program is offered free of charge and is available to neighborhood associations, youth organizations, school groups or classes, and civic groups.

To schedule a speaker to come to your group meeting, contact Jerry Hendrix, City of Kyle Director of Communications, at 262-3921 or e-mail at [jhendrix \[at\] cityofkyle \[dot\] com](mailto:jhendrix@cityofkyle.com).
