

Code Red

The City of Kyle uses the Code Red Emergency to deliver important messages to Kyle residents in the case of an emergency.

The CodeRed system uses phone numbers and addresses stored in the City's utility data base to create an user friendly, internet-based interface to place calls quickly and efficiently in cases of emergency. Kyle residents can also access the system to enter other phone numbers should they want to be notified on their cell phones or at work should a message be sent to their home number.

The system can also be used to deliver other public service announcements to citizens.

The CodeRed System is entirely internet-based and has redundant servers across the country. This ensures that the system will be available and can be activated from anywhere with an Internet connection. Even in the event that an Internet connection is unavailable, the system can be activated by phone if necessary.
